Google Adwords and conversion tracking

This website uses the "Google AdWords" online advertising programme, which includes conversion tracking. The conversion tracking cookie is activated when the user clicks on an ad displayed by Google. These cookies are not used for personal identification. If the user visits certain pages of this website and the cookie has not yet expired, Google and we can see that the user has clicked on the ad and has been redirected to this page. Each Google AdWords client is associated with a specific cookie, so cookies cannot be tracked across multiple AdWords client sites. The information collected using conversion cookies is used to compile conversion statistics for AdWords clients who have opted for this tracking. Clients can see the total number of users who clicked on their ad and were redirected to a page containing a conversion tracking tag. However, they do not receive any personally identifiable information. Users who do not wish to participate in tracking can easily deactivate the Google conversion tracking cookie via their Internet browser settings.

Use of Facebook plug-ins

We have integrated plug-ins from the facebook.com (Facebook) social network into our website. Each time you visit a page on our website with such a plug-in, the plug-in instructs the browser you are using to load and display the visual representation of the plug-in from
